

Directly responsible to the Governor of Nebraska

Director

- Within established limits, the Director has full authority to accomplish the function of Director. The Director may delegate authority, but not overall responsibility.
- As the chief executive officer of the Department of Transportation, the Director is responsible for:
- Implementing objectives established by the Legislature and the Governor consistent with an integrated transportation system, including highway, rail and public transportation programs.
- Directing the planning, design, construction, maintenance and operations of the Department of Transportation.
- Maintaining relationships with federal, county and municipal governments, other state agencies and private entities in all matters pertaining to an improved and integrated state transportation system.
- Developing a performance-based Department of Transportation.